

WEEKLY WEATHER BRIEFING

2:00 PM CDT
Thursday, September 1, 2022

Prepared by:
NWS New Orleans/Baton Rouge

Situation Overview

- A return of the rainy weather pattern is expected.
- Localized flash flooding will be a concern this weekend and likely into next week...especially in more urbanized areas.
- Flooding on the Pearl River will continue to impact low lying neighborhoods near Slidell through the middle of next week.
- No tropical threats for the area through the end of next week.

Tropical Weather Outlook

- Tropics are a bit more active. TS Danielle formed this morning in the North Atlantic
- No impacts to the area are expected through the end of next week.

Excessive Rainfall Outlook

Tomorrow and Tomorrow Night

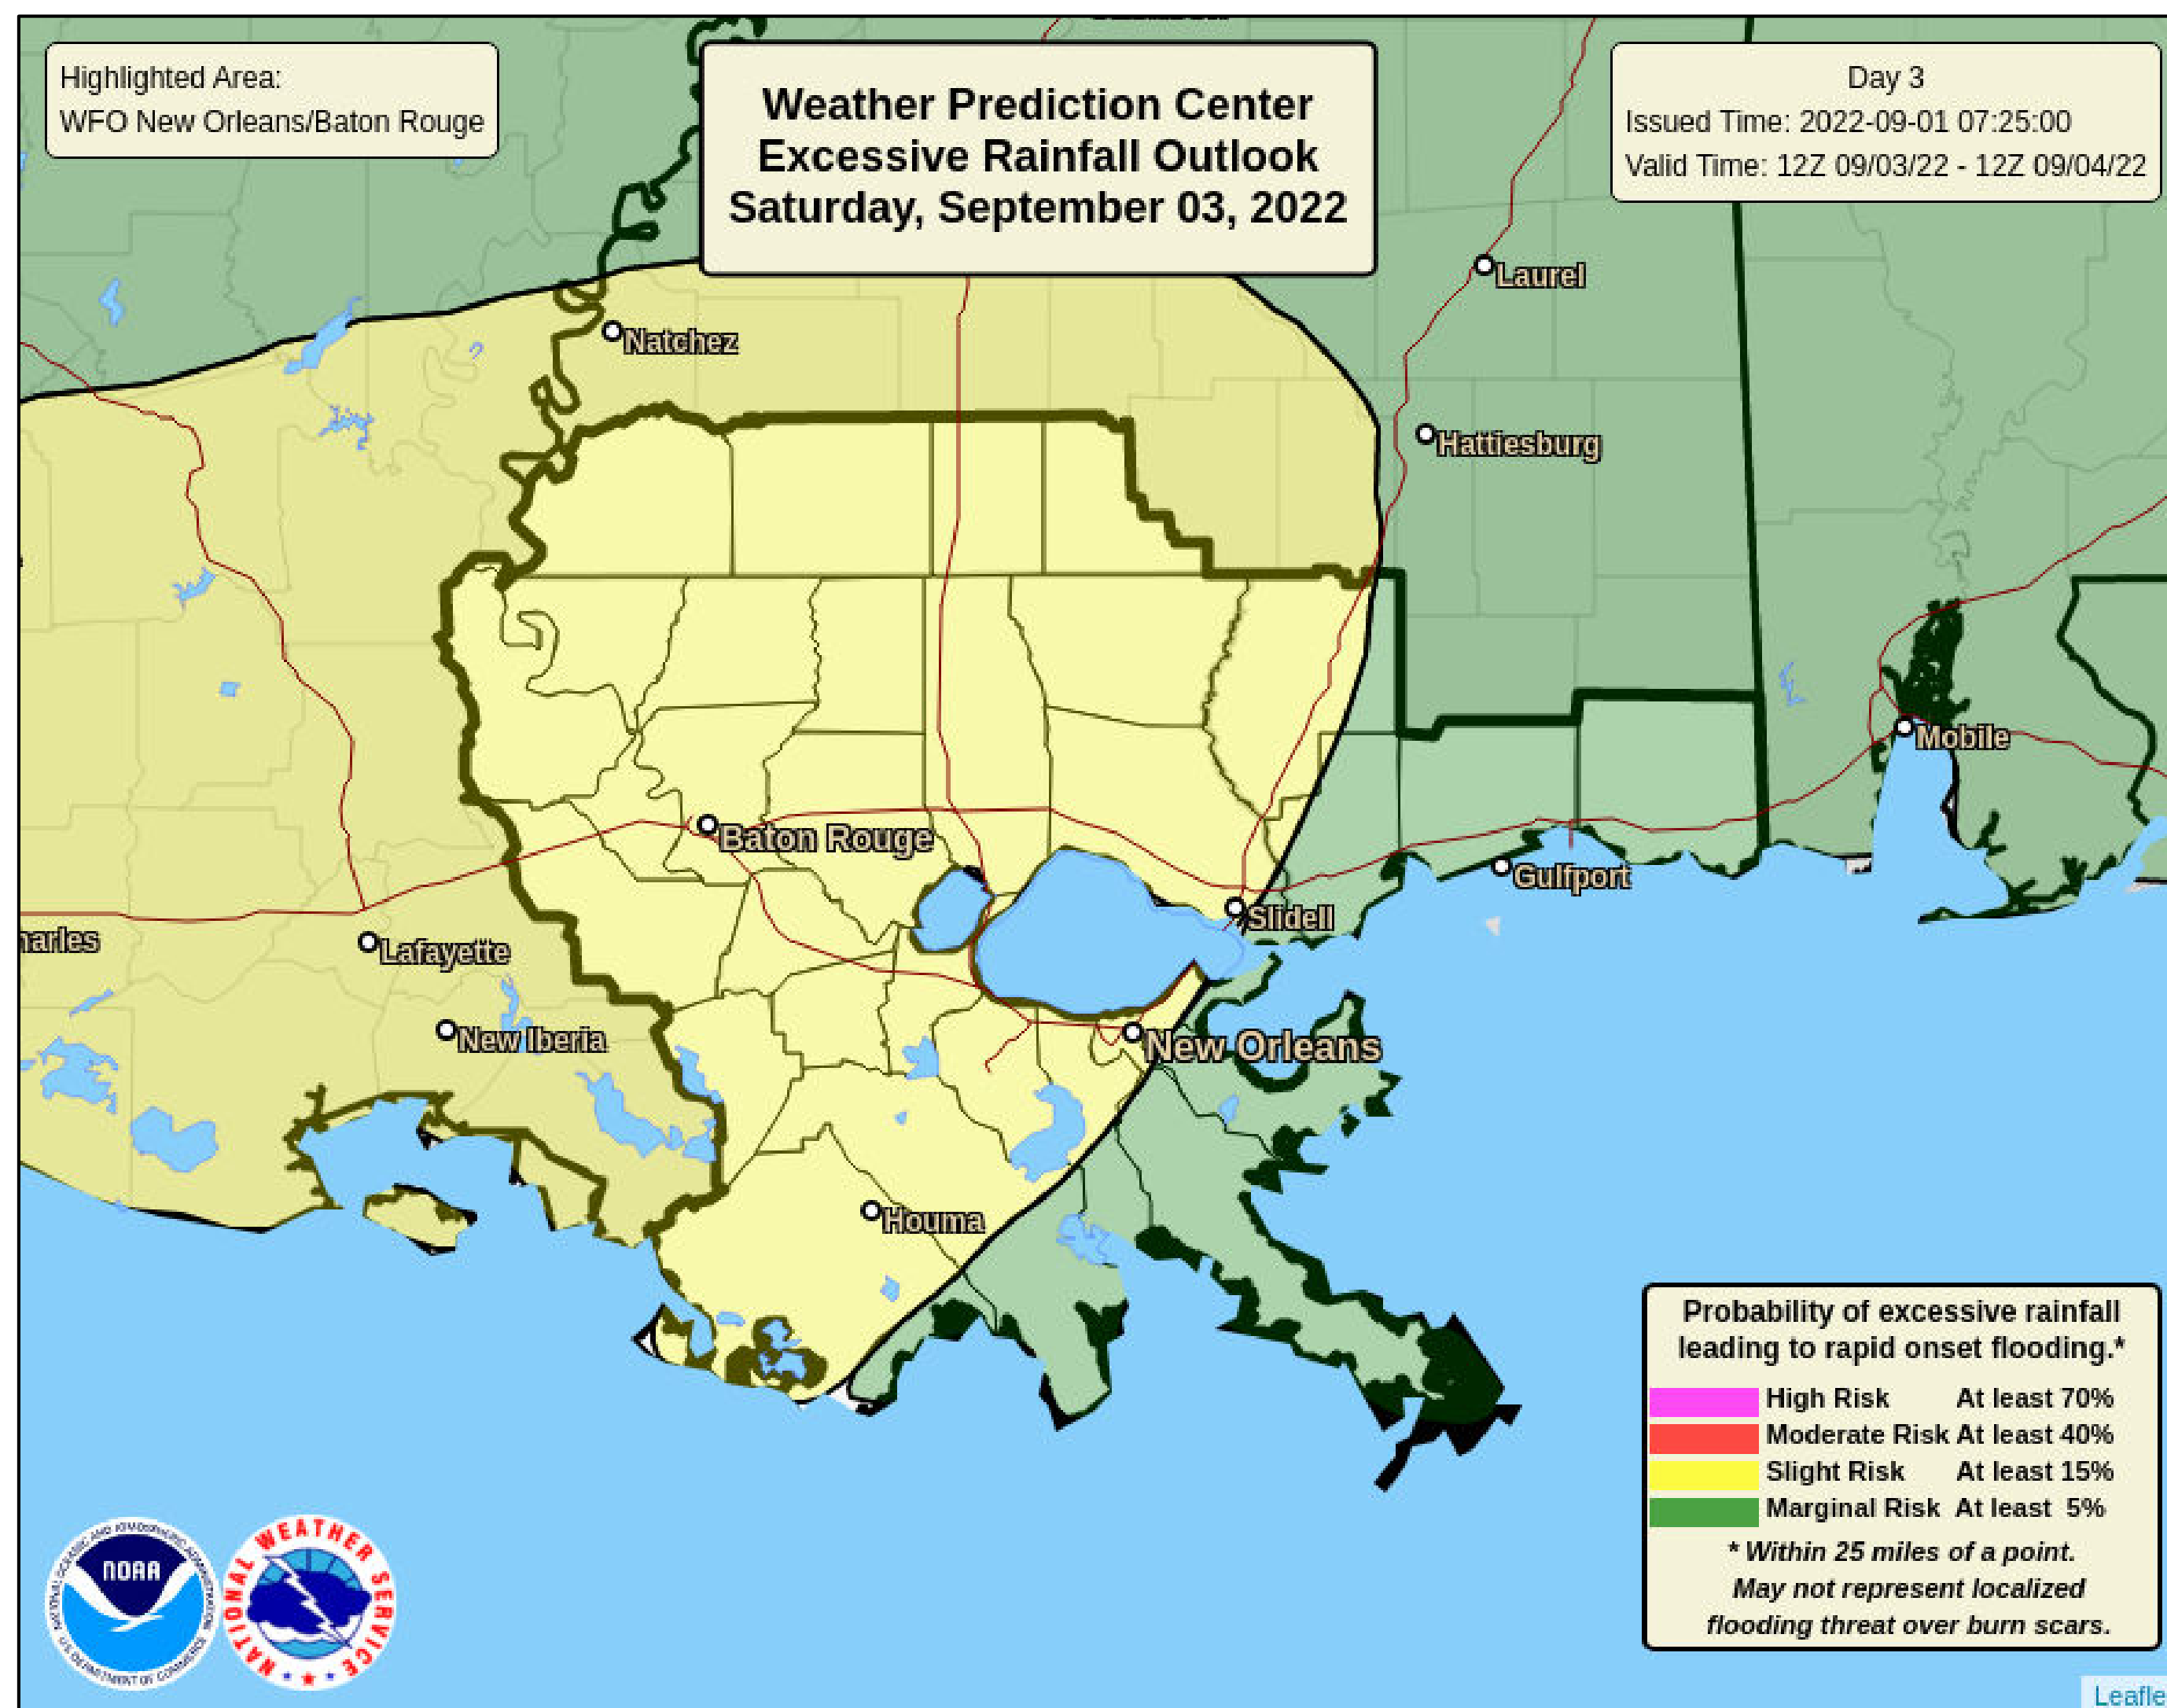

- High rainfall rates of 2 to 3 inches per hour could cause localized flash flooding concerns.
- The threat exists across all of SE LA and S MS. Higher threat in lower lying and poorly drained urbanized areas.
- Highest threat will occur from late morning through the afternoon hours.

Excessive Rainfall Outlook

Saturday and Saturday Night

- High rainfall rates of 3 to 4 inches per hour could cause localized flash flooding concerns.
- Highest threat will be west of a Poplarville to New Orleans to Montegut line, but overall threat is in place across the area.
- Highest threat will occur from the late morning through the evening hours.

River Forecasts

Note: River forecasts include 24 hours of future rainfall. Additional rainfall beyond that time frame could result in changes to the forecast.

Primary impacts are closures of wildlife areas and flooding of some roads

River Forecasts

Note: River forecasts include 24 hours of future rainfall. Additional rainfall beyond that time frame could result in changes to the forecast.

Primary impacts are flooding of low lying roads in neighborhoods near the river in the Slidell area.

Summary of Impacts

- A return of the rainy weather pattern is expected.
- Localized flash flooding will be a concern this weekend and likely into next week...especially in more urbanized areas.
- Flooding on the Pearl River will continue to impact low lying neighborhoods near Slidell through the middle of next week.
- No tropical threats for the area through the end of next week.

Questions?

Contact WFO New Orleans at 504-522-7330 or 985-649-0429
or through the “LIXchat” NWSChatroom

Get the latest forecast and hazard information at www.weather.gov/neworleans